

1. Classify each transformation as substitution, elimination or addition.

2. Use full headed arrow or half-headed curved arrows to show the movement of electrons in each reaction.

3. Draw the products of each reaction by following the curved arrows.

